

I think the request is common sensical and granting the request fills a desperately needed gap in propagation so that all types of communications, especially those of an emergency nature, can be more effective. In addition it is a wise and prudent use of the HF bands. Thank you, Mike Murray